

Symposium on Learning Alliances for scaling up innovative approaches in the water and sanitation sector

7 – 9 June 2005
Delft, the Netherlands

Proceedings of the symposium on “Learning Alliances for scaling up innovative approaches in the water and sanitation sector”

7-9 June 2005, Delft, the Netherlands

Edited by

Stef Smits, Catarina Fonseca and Jaap Pels

© IRC International Water and Sanitation Centre

Copies and extracts of this publication may be used in any non-profit-making context providing the source is acknowledged.

Cover pictures by: Centro AGUA (Bolivia), John Butterworth, Deirdre Casella, Patrick Moriarty and Stef Smits

All papers will be downloadable at: www.irc.nl/la

Please reference these proceedings as:

Smits, S., Fonseca, C. and J. Pels (eds.) (2005) Proceedings of the symposium on Learning Alliances for scaling up innovative approaches in the water and sanitation sector held in Delft, the Netherlands, 7-9 June 2005. IRC, Delft, the Netherlands

And individual papers as (for example):

Adolph, B. (2005) Learning how to do things differently: challenges in sharing tacit knowledge for agricultural and rural development (with examples from India and Namibia). In: Smits, S., Fonseca, C. and J. Pels (eds.) (2005) Proceedings of the symposium on Learning Alliances for scaling up innovative approaches in the water and sanitation sector held in Delft, the Netherlands, 7-9 June 2005. IRC, Delft, the Netherlands or

Adolph, B. (2005) Learning how to do things differently: challenges in sharing tacit knowledge for agricultural and rural development (with examples from India and Namibia) [online] Available at www.irc.nl/la (accessed 4 July 2005)

Acknowledgements

The editors would like to thank the IRC colleagues who helped in identifying papers for this event and in reviewing the papers: Eveline Bolt, Ewen Leborgne, Trea Christoffers, Ton Schouten and Patrick Moriarty.

Also many thanks go out to Lauren Houttuin and Michel van der Leest for their support in formatting and preparing these proceedings on CD-ROM and in hard-copy.

Table of contents

Acknowledgements	iii
Learning how to do things differently: challenges in sharing tacit knowledge for agricultural and rural development (with examples from India and Namibia) Barbara Adolph	1
Towards WATSAN learning alliances in Pakistan Masroor Ahmad, Farooq Khan Abbasi, Dr. Tameez Ahmad, Saima Shinwari and Peter J. Bury	11
Fluid bonds – Facilitating networks as Learning Alliances for policy advocacy: The case of PRAVAH, Gujarat (India) Sara Ahmed and Shalabh Mittal	21
Hygiene improvement at scale Renuka Bery, Mona Grieser and Merri Weinger	31
EMPOWERS Project in Egypt: An Example of a Learning Alliance Approach M. El- Manadely, K. Soliman, and H. Fahmy	37
The importance of the facilitator in building learning alliances; reflections on the experience of the CINARA institute Mariela García Vargas	49
An evaluation of existing institutions, organisations and networks capacity and limitations, strength and weaknesses in scaling up innovations and the role of Learning Alliance approaches into existing water and sanitation sector in Zimbabwe Edward Guzha	57
Knowledge management: active and collaborative alliances for effective development Damián Indij	65
Learning Alliances for local water resource management in Egypt, Jordan and Palestine: lessons from the EMPOWERS project Peter Laban and Patrick Moriarty	77
The Learning Alliance and Resource Centres: a win -win? René van Lieshout	89
Advantages of Learning Alliances for Plan Tanzania, CARE Tanzania and WaterAid Tanzania Learning Forum Daudi Makamba	95
Post-harvest innovation to improve food security in Tanzania and Zimbabwe: Learning alliance lessons M. J. Morris, B. M. Mvumi, W. H. Riwa and T. E. Stathers	99
A partnership approach in improving school sanitation and hygiene in Kenya Pauline Mwaniki and Misheck Kiriimi	111
Democratisation of Water Management - Nurturing Democratic Change; the Tamil Nadu Experiment 2003-2005 Vibhu Nayar I.A.S.,	121
The contribution of networking and partnerships in community initiatives to scale-up of water supply services, Geita District, Tanzania Amsalu Negussie	131
Partnership for sustainable water management practices in Indian Dairy Industry K.V.Rajeshwari, I. Thanumoorthy, Malini Balakrishnan, Vidya S. Batra, Patricia Mc Crory, Joel Ferguson, Julie-Anne Hanna, Miriam Sartor, Martin Kaschek and Horst Chmiel	137

A conceptual framework for technology transfer to the local level in the water supply and sanitation sector in Latin America; Lessons learned from Team Learning Projects Inés Restrepo-Tarquino	143
Strengthening capacities through Learning Alliances: Improving water use implementing cleaner production in the tanneries in El Cerrito (Colombia) Inés Restrepo-Tarquino, Gustavo Vivas and Ana Dorly Jaramillo	151
Who's Water? Learning from Public-'Private' Partnerships in Gujarat Jan Reynders and Sara Ahmed	161
A case study on stakeholder dialogue and participatory planning in the water sector of Jenin Governorate Sameera Rifai 1, Buthayna Mizyed, Falasteen Abo Baker, Sayel Wishahi	171
Roof top rain water harvesting in remote rural schools: an approach for global replication Bunker Roy	183
Learning Alliances development for scaling up of multi-purpose farm ponds in a semi-arid region of the Mekong basin Sawaeng Ruaysoongnern and Frits Penning de Vries	191
Stakeholder dialogue and participatory planning in the water sector of Balqa Governorate, Jordan Fadi Shraideh, Rania Alzoubi, Mufleh Abaddi and Fidaa Haddad	203
Building a Learning Water Services Sector through Collaboration; the South African Experience of Masibambane (Let's Work Together) and WIN (Water Information Network) Thoko Sigwaza, Ndala Duma, Cllr. Nandi Maythula-Khoza, and Louise Colvin	213
Capacity Building Networks - an effective way to scale up capacity building Paul Taylor and Kees Leendertse	221
Preparing people for Integrated Catchment Management: a proposed Learning Alliance for the implementation of a new legal framework for water management in South Africa; "reflexive learning in context" Derick Du Toit	229
Multi-stakeholder learning in Colombia Jan Teun Visscher, Mariela Garcia and Niels Röling	243
Action research on scaling up rural water and sanitation services in Ethiopia Gugsa Yimer and Ton Schouten	255
Innovative Approaches to Strengthening the Water and Health Sector in Latin America: Experiences in Guatemala and Bolivia M.A. Zárate, J.M Rojas, J.O. Arzabe, and H.L. Stone	261

